After-school Classes

Lots of students in the 8th grade take extra classes after school. Mom asked me to take art classes on Thursdays. At first, I thought painting was very difficult, so I didn't want to learn it. However, I fell in love with it little by little. Now I am not poor at it anymore. My sister said that a second foreign language is important, so I want to learn one. I don't know which one I should learn, so I took Japanese class with my good friend, Mavis, on Tuesdays. I wanted to know how many other students in my grade take after- school classes, so I took a survey. I made this pictograph with the results.

An encyclopedia is usually a book, or a set of books with articles about almost everything. One of the most famous ones is called Encyclopedia Britannica. It was first published in 1768 in the UK. The first one was mainly about science and sold out very quickly. Then the publishers decided to make the second one bigger. There were key events in history and the life stories of famous people in it. Also, Encyclopedia Britannica has made the jump online. That means you can read it in the library or on the go — anytime and anywhere.

Like dictionaries, the subjects are in alphabetical order. There are a number of books in large encyclopedias. Each of these books is called a “volume” and the subjects begin with the same letter. When using an encyclopedia, it is important to remember that names of famous people are listed by their last (family) names. So, you will find “ Abraham Lincoln ” under “ L”, not “A”. The names of things beginning with “ The ” or “A” will not be found under “ T ”or “A”, but under the section of the first letter of the word directly after “ The ” or “A” . So the movie “ The Island ” will be found under “ I ”, and you will find it written as “ Island, The ”. Here is an example of an encyclopedia’s volume:

2. If you want to find an article about “Albert Einstein”, what should you do?
  - (A) Look for volume 1 under “Albert Einstein.”
  - (B) Look for volume 5 under “Einstein, Albert.”
  - (C) Look for volume 2 under “Austrian Scientist.”
  - (D) Look for volume 13 under “A Scientist.”
3. If you want to find an article about “The Atlantic Ocean”, what should you do?
  - (A) Check volume 1.
  - (B) Check volume 2.
  - (C) Check volume 11.
  - (D) Check volume 14.

Volume 1	Aa~Am	Volume 3	B	Volume 5	D-E	Volume 13	R-S	Volume 15	W-V

1. Which of the following is true about the Encyclopedia Britannica?
- (A) It only has one edition so far.
  - (B) It was first published in the 17th century in the USA.
  - (C) You can only learn things about science after reading it.
  - (D) You can check it online now.

FUN SUNDAY

I love Sunday very much. I clean the house with my father that day from morning to evening. Why is this so much fun? It's because my dad always plays our favorite songs and we sing together when we work.

We vacuum and mop the floor, wipe the tables, and clean the windows. My father and I do the work quickly because we both want the first prize --- a big steak from my mom! My mom is a great cook. I like everything she makes, not only steak but also roasted turkey. After having delicious steak, we three can also enjoy our favorite ice cream together.

She also wants to hang out with her friends and watch TV, but now, she doesn't even have her own free time. She wants to talk to her mother about this problem tonight.
